INDICATIONS: For Tennessee and the Ohio Valley, slightly warmer, south and east winds, falling barometer and partly cloudy weather.

A communication entitled, "Water Works—The Other Side," was handed in yesterday, but too late for an insertion in this morning's issue. It shall appear in our next.

OUR Washington and Greenville letters will be found on our third page. "Roy" touches up the Brigadiers in his usual live way, and "L. X." doesn't give a very cheerful picture of Greene county finance.

A GENTLEMAN, yesterday, kindly pointed out a little squib in the Chattanooga Times, from which we infer that the old man who runs that monster machine must have been troubled with the dyspepsia. Sorry for you, neighbor, and also very sorry that we did not notice your witty article sooner, for we are two or three days returning our thanks. Your opinion is of great (?) moment to us.

THE Ohio Democratic Legislature is very much troubled because, forsooth, the Republicans had the impertinence to elect a majority in one of the Cincinnati local Boards. The Board is composed of five members, and these Legislative statesmen want to pass a bill to make four votes a majority instead of three. That reminds us of some of the performances of our late departed, and much-lamented Legislature in their efforts to run against the Constitution.

"AND there shall be wars and rumors of wars," Peru and Bolivia vs. Chili, England vs. Zululand, England vs. Afghanistan, in the class of "wars," and a little commotion in Italy in the class of "rumors." It does look as if we ought to have some war news. We will get it, unless the Democrats get mixed up in it and whipped as they usually are, and then our fair and candid Associated Press man will suppress it.

SPEAKER Randall's path is not entirely covered with rose leaves. The thorns make themselves evident, and the Speaker's dainty feet are pierced. The Charleston News and Courier hits him in this wise:

"The complaint that Mr. Randall did not treat the strongest Democrats well in making up his committee last session Mr. Randall has done himself scant credit. Mr. Atkins is not fit to be chairman of the Appropriation Committee, and Mr. Wood is an utter failure as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee."

XLVI CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 21.

The Senate, at the expiration of the morning hour, took up Mr.
Wallace's resolution to vest the appointment and removal of the Senate employees in the Secretary and the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate, the question being on Mr. Edmunds' substitute, which was opposed by Mr. Pendleton and advocated by Mr. Conkling.

Without action on Mr. Wallace's resolution the Senate resumed the consideration of the Army bill. Mr.
Garland addressed the Senate. He quoted the English law and commentaries thereon showing the strict subordination to the civil authority in which the military forces are held in Great Britain. He deplored the exhibitions of sectional feeling, and did not believe that the country could be prosperous so long as the old conflict between the North and the South is used at each recurring Presidential election as an instrumentality of party success.

Mr. Davis, of Illinois, followed in favor of the pending bill. In the course of his speech he said: No man loved Mr. Lincoln better or honored his memory more than I do, nor had any one greater opportunities to learn the constitution of his mind and character, and his habits of thought. He was largehearted, wiser than those associated with him, full of sympathy for struggling humanity, without malice, with charity for erring men, loving his whole country with a deep devotion and intensely anxious to love it. Believing as I do that he was raised up by Providence for the great crisis of the war of the rebellion. I have equal belief, had he lived, we would have been spared much of the strife of these latter days and that we would have been on the high road to prosperity, such a man, hating all forms of oppression and deeply imbued with the principle that induced the men of '76 to resist the stamp tax, would never have willingly entrusted power to any one, unless war was flagrant, to send troops to oversee an election.

HOUSE.

The House, after having dispensed with reading yesterday's journal, resumed consideration of the subsidiary silver coin bill. Mr. Chittenden, of New York, made a brief statement in favor of the bill, and the House proceeded to vote on the amendment to it.

An amendment was offered by Mr. Gillette, of Iowa, for the redemption of subsidiary silver coins in paper fractional currency of ten, twenty-five and fifty cents, which currency shall be legal tender to the amount of ten dollars.

Mr. Stephens, of Georgia, who had charge of the bill, said that, personally, he was in favor of the amendment, and that the subject was before the Committee on Coinage, but that he did not want this bill encumbered with it. Upon this representation Mr. Gillette withdrew his amendment.

An amendment was offered by Mr. Newberry, of Michigan, requiring small coins (cents, three cents, &c.) to be received at postoffices on stamps, in sums not exceeding three dollars. After discussion, the amendment was agreed to.

The House has passed the subsidiary silver coin bill. The bill as passed provides that silver coins of a smaller denomination than one dollar may be exchangeable into lawful money when presented in sums of $20 dollars, makes lawful money exchangeable into silver coin in like amounts, makes subsidiary silver coins a legal tender for all debts, public and private in sums of not exceeding $20, and makes minor silver coinage receivable at postoffices to the amount of $3.

Discussion was resumed on the Legislative bill.

Senator Carpenter will deliver the Fourth of July oration at Knoxville, Wis. He will then go to Colorado for two months' rest. He is suffering greatly from rheumatism.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, April 22.—At the opening of the United States Circuit Court this morning, Judge Bond instructed the jury charged with the trial of the Bonyell County election conspiracy cases, to bring in a verdict of not guilty, on the ground of a defect in the information. The information consisted of five separate counts. The first four counts charged that T. Traversers with other persons unknown conspired to prevent Fred Nix colored, and others who were qualified voters from meeting peaceably in consultation in respect to public affairs, and immunity granted to them by the United States. The fifth count charged that T. Traversers conspired to injure and oppress Nix in the exercise of a right to vote at a Federal election on account of his race and color. The first four counts of the information, the Judge held, could not be maintained, because they contained no allegation that the parties alleged to have been interfered with had been molested on account of their race or color. The fifth count, he said, while it charged an offense under the statute that is the right to vote at an election without distinction of race or color, there had been no proof offered to sustain. The jury accordingly brought in a verdict of not guilty. United States District Attorney S. A. Northrup then, to the surprise of the vast audience in the court room, to continue all the political cases until the next November term of the court, and stated a his ground for making such a motion that it would be impossible, after the ruling of the court just made and in consequence of the time already consumed in dilatory motions on the part of the defense, to proceed with the trials without an enormous expense to the Government. There being no objection to the motion on the part of the defense, the cases were all continued until next term.

SOUTH AFRICA.

LONDON, April 22.—Advices from Cape Town, dated April 6th, via St.
Vincent, state that Lord Chelms-ford's camp at Girgilliova, on the road to Elkove, was attacked at day-break on April 3rd, by 11,000 Zulus, who made frequent and de-spicacious attacks on all sides, but were repulsed and pursued with great loss. Four hundred and seventy-one Zulus were found dead around the trenches. The final attack was led by Dabulomzi, who commanded at Isandula. Lieutenant Johnson, of the 99th Regiment, and four privates were killed. Colonel Northey, of the 16th Regiment, the surgeon and five men were seriously wounded. Col. Crealock, Major Bonan and ten men were wounded on the 4th inst. Lord Chelmsford, with the 91st, 60th and 57th Regiments and Body Marines, left camp and relieved Elkove during the night. Col. Pearson and his garrison have reached Unisindusi, and will arrive at Tugelo April 7th. During investment twenty-eight men died, and one hundred and twenty-eight were put on the sick list. Elkove has been totally evacuated.

[NOTE.—The evacuation mentioned above is presumably by the old garrison.]

A dispatch dated Cape Town, April 8th, to Reuter's Agency, says: In the fight between Col.
Wood's command and the Zulus on the 28th of March, the retreat of the Zulus was cut off and a hand-to-hand fight ensued. Col. Weatherly, his son, Capt. Barton, Baron Von Stuttkorff and seventy men were killed, and on the 29th Lieuts. Nicholson and Bright were killed, Maj. Hockett was severely wounded and Lieut. Smith and Captains Gardner, Cox and Pearse were wounded. The total of the British losses in both engagements are estimated at 220 killed and wounded. The Zulus lost 2,500 men. It is rumored at Pretoria and Natal, that the Boers intend investing Pretoria, and threaten to detain Sir Bartle Freere as a hostage unless their demands are complied with. It is rumored also that Sir Bartle Freere is returning to Natal.

The transport Clyde has been wrecked on Dyer's Island. All the crew were saved.

Donald, Currie & Co., proprietors of the Cape of Good Hope, and the National Royal Mail Line steamers, have received a telegram dated St.
Vincent, April 22d, which says: Col. Wood's column has been attacked near Lunenburg by a large number of Zulus. Every assault was repulsed with great loss. The British loss was seven officers, and four hundred men. The troops fought gallantly, but appear to have been taken by surprise.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, April 22.—The race for city and suburban handicap took place to-day at the Epsom spring meeting, and resulted in a victory for the favorite, P. Lorillard's American horse Parole. Lord Ridotto's four-year-old bay colt, Cradle, came in second, and Lord Wilton's six-year-old brown horse, Cradle, third. The last betting was 3 to 1 against Parole, 25 to 1 against Ridotto, and 20 to 1 against Cradle. There were eighteen starters.

District,

MR. EDITOR: As our district has not been represented in your columns, we will drop you a few brief notes: The fruit prospects are blasted, but wheat is promising, clover flourishing and the meadows assuming their verdant hue.
Corn planting is awaiting the termination of showers. Spring indications are numerous, but greenbacks scarce, orakers few, and prosperity prevailing generally. The people are rejoicing at the Legislature's adjournment.
Long may our fair state be spared the curse of such another assemblage.

A Sabbath-school was organized recently at Zion's Church, with Mr.
Will. McCull, Superintendent, and a full corps of teachers and officers.
It gives us pleasure to read the spirited articles of your sly correspondent, Roy. We enjoy his regalia, and are sure that a large-sized heart beats in his bosom. Long live the CHRONICLE to battle for the right.

Zinc Mine and Smelting Works.

A Chicago company have been operating a zinc mine in Claiborne county, Tenn., about 100 miles from Knoxville, on Clinch River. Their present means of transportation is by river to Coal Creek, and thence to Knoxville by rail, or by river to Chattanooga and thence by rail to Northern furnaces.
They have sold a large lot of the ore to the Zinc Smelting Works at Carondelet, which is being shipped now by the latter route. The deposit is large and rich, being an average of 16 feet surface and 30 feet thick. A small force has been working the mine for two years, and has put out, of clean selected ore, some 600 tons. The mine having been fully tested, its owners have determined to erect smelting works at some point on the Knoxville and Ohio Railway near Knoxville, and have taken preliminary steps to that end. There are besides this, and only a few miles from it, several other rich beds of zinc ore, one of which, in Union county, has been worked profitably several years, principally in the interest of a smelting company in New York City. Upper East Tennessee will, at no very distant day, be a principal center of zinc manufacture in the United States.—Chattanooga Times.

A Vault for the Court House.

Work was commenced yesterday tearing away and digging for the new vault to be constructed at the court house, under the supervision of Chairman Ottrell and Clerk Lewis, by direction of the County Court. Mr. E.
H. Flenniken has the contract for the brick work. The vault is to be started from the ground at the east end of the court in front of the building, that pair of steps being removed, and to be turned up all the way of the three stories, thus furnishing accommodations for the Register, the County Court Clerk and the C. & M. of the Chancery Court, with openings to be cut from their respective rooms through the walls.
